

An event of GREAT SUCCESS by the APTS Organizing Committee:–

a total of 43 APTS Members and Guests turned up for our APTS Year-End Party Celebration with 3 Guests signed up on the spot as APTS Members

DEAR APTS Members & Guests:

APTS celebrated a second year of continual learning for its members and friends at its year-end party held on 28 Dec 2007 at TUV-SUD-PSB, Da Vinci Function Hall in the Science Park.

It was a great evening of motivation by Asia Professional Speakers Singapore, President David Lim who spoke on the need to add value in all that we do as trainers, based on his Mt. Everest expedition and the ensuing personal challenges he faced on his return. In response, the audience rewarded David with a standing ovation!

Also lighting up the evening was the ever-spicy and humorous Rewa Mirpuri. APTS Vice-President John Teo then wrapped up the evening of learning with a bout of magic that captured everyone's imagination.

And before everyone left, APTS members and their guests all learned a little more of what it takes to run an auction successfully with Master of Ceremonies Patrick Ang capping off the evening with a round of salesmanship.

The New Year in 2008 promises a new era of growth of the APTS in both the number of members and the quality of programmes. We look forward to having new professional trainers who will join the APTS as members and aspirants who hope to become trainers eventually.

We wish one and all a Happy 2008, and may your success come from learning more about the APTS through your professional training programmes!

Andy Ng

31st January 2008 - ATTRACTION

" Magnetic Selling for Trainers "

Here are 9 Important Things You Should Know
About your local Action Coach: Andy Ng...

Website: www.trainingcoachingasia.com

Email: andyng@action-international.com / Tel: 65-9743-4419

1. Andy has over 20 years of professional and business experience in serving big and small companies. Currently he is the CEO of HPA Group:
 - Harness Potential Associates Pte Ltd (business coaching/consulting & training)
 - Higher Profits Action Pte Ltd (MIDAS - Mergers, Investments, Diversification and Acquisition Strategies for aspiring companies wanting to reach the big league)
2. His commercial experience includes being a director at Allied Telesyn International (Asia) Pte Ltd, consultant at KPMG Consulting Pte Ltd and Financial Analyst at Chase Manhattan Bank NA. Some of these successes included adding $8.5 million in his first year to revenues in a mature business already turning over more than S$200 million a year.
3. Andy has a MBA from UK which means he has been formally educated. Yet his teaching style is completely practical because he believes that action still speaks louder than words.
4. Business development has been a feature of Andy's business career from day 1. By age 21 he was running a tuition agency business and by 30 was the top 20% sales team at Vickers Ballas Holdings Limited, the top 3 stockbroking firm in Singapore. You're dealing with a go-getter.
5. Current coaching clients include one client whose turnover improved 28% in the first 4 months of coaching while he is working alongside 9 clients planning an additional $1.5 million increase in current turnover with a range of practical strategies that will make the new financial year one to remember. One client called Stylistique Ads (S) Pte Ltd has since coaching started in September 2003, increased his monthly sales and profits by 50% and 35% respectively. Since 2001, total companies coached by Andy (one-on-one and group basis) totaled 127.
6. Andy is also doing training for SingTel, Sing Power, IQPC, NTUC, Toppan Forms, and 101 other companies on a wide range of topics including marketing, teambuilding, sales, finance, business planning, systematization, customer service and entrepreneurship.
7. Andy's highly motivated style will challenge the heights that you believe you are capable of and will become a trustworthy guide to building the business you know is possible. Taking teams and businesses to new levels is his passion and whether the business is large or small is of no consequence. Providing you the client have a passion for your business, the fit will be a good one.
8. Always a family man, Andy is happily married with 3 kids. His wife a senior HR Manager.
9. In the community, Andy is with the Lions (Beverly Hills), Rotary eClub, BNI, ASME, SCCCI, SMa, Toastmasters International and Association of Professional Speakers.

To help establish APTS as a name immediately associated with training and trainers, we are looking for partners that we can work with. Currently, one training organization, ComsLink International Pte Ltd & DW Associates Pte Ltd has requested APTS to endorse their new programme on event management. APTS is happy to endorse this programme, particularly as this course will be conducted by one of our very own APTS members, Mr. T. Vijay – a well-respected name in event management in Singapore. See next page for more information.

APTS managed to seek a 20% special privileged discount for our members who sign up for this programme. To find out more about this course, please visit. <http://www.comslinkint.com/EMAP%20newsletter1.htm>

If members are organizing courses, and would like to have the added credibility of being endorsed by APTS, please E-mail the details of your programme to the APTS Secretary, Mr. Danny Ker at Danny.KER@tuv-sud-psb.sg

Events Management Action Program

11 January 2008 - 29 March 2008

HERE'S HOW TO TRAIN YOUR PEOPLE TO ORGANIZE A SUCCESSFUL & PROFITABLE EVENT

Mounting a successful event is a challenging and demanding task. An event organizer must be highly creative, responsive, able to re-invent their programmes to meet client needs, strive for novelty and stay ahead of the latest trends.

This workshop aims to provide a practical guide for understanding, planning, organizing and marketing events of all types. At the end of the course, participants will be empowered with the necessary basic understanding and skills to create successful events for their companies and clients.

OBJECTIVES AND LEARNING OUTCOME

- Deliver sound and effective event management plan and delivery based upon tools taught at workshop and project assignment undertaken in groups.
- Enhance creativity - seeking new ideas and challenging the bounds of convention to break new grounds.
- Increase public recognition of skill training for all professions (executives, managers) through sectors integration.

OBJECTIVES OF WORKSHOP

Organizers: DW Associates Pte Ltd

Endorsed By:

Who should attend?

- Event organizers and promoters interested in enhancing their management skills
- Marketing/Promotions/PR managers who use events as part of the marketing mix.
- Project managers interested in developing a more creative approach to their work.
- Managers and executives with little or no management experience interested in events.
- Administrators, HR, Finance, IT...

T. Vijayakumar - Trainer

Mr T Vijay is a highly sought after practitioner in the field of event, conference and exhibition management. He has more than 25 years of experience executing prestigious local and regional events. He honed his skills with stints in premier organizations such as the Munich International Trade Fairs Pte Ltd, Reeds Exhibitions, Interfama Fairs and Exhibitions, Singapore Trade Development Board, Singapore Convention Bureau of the STB and many others.

He is currently the General Manager of CMA International Consultants Pte Ltd, one of Singapore's oldest and leading Professional Conference Organizers that organizes seminars, conferences (and related exhibitions), incentive programmes and other MICE industry events. He is a very engaging speaker and has received very positive feedback from participants and students.

TESTIMONIALS

APTS events are very professionally run. It was through a colleague Mr. Patrick Ang that I come to know of the 2007 year-end APTS get-together and speakers engagement. It was well run and the speakers, especially mountaineer, adventurer and motivator David Lim inspired me tremendously with his passion and enthusiasm.

As usual Patrick is a seasoned pro to host the event and the networking was a great insight to the professionalism of the APTS members. I look forward to attending more events.

I have had the fine opportunity of being invited to your APTS monthly "get-together fellowship sessions" soon after graduating from the Professional Trainers Course conducted by IPMA-Quest Group.

Last Friday's session at the PSB Building at Science Park Drive, was certainly the best -- in terms of attendance, programme, ambience and certainly food as well. OK, it was meant to be a year-end project.

My partner and I were thrilled by the pep talk from mountaineer David Lim, the jokes from author Rewa Mirpuri, and the illusions from magician John Teo. Publisher Patrick Ang made a very entertaining M-C. The level of general excitement in the room was pretty obvious.

We bought an endorsed book from Mirpuri, an endorsed DVD from David and even a calendar from the auctions that followed. It was an enjoyable evening. Where else can one get one whole night's entertainment for a mere $15 contribution per person? Yeah, we certainly look forward to your next function.

Meantime, I do seriously intend to sign up and am even considering giving a pep talk (tentatively, Success thru Fear Management), in the near future. I believe that both would come to pass. Soon!!

I was grateful for the warmth and welcome I received from the members of APTS. They were friendly and genuinely eager to help the attendees connect with one another to find good networking leads and opportunities. I also enjoyed Dr. Asha's presentation about "Name Cards". It was witty, tongue-in-cheek and informative. I'm looking forward to hearing more of her wit and wisdom.

The food was good too!

TESTIMONIALS

I attended my first APTS meeting last night being the year end party / get together. I was pleasantly surprised to meet friends there whom I have not seen for some time. It was also heart-warming to see the team of leaders and committee members playing their different roles in a well organised, professional manner. This is evident in the running of the various items and the different ways they made all of us feel welcomed. The evening was very enjoyable as we had a variety of things going on including an interesting and inspiring presentation by the guest speaker David Lim, Humour by Rewa Mirpuri, Magic Show by John Teo and the Fun Auction by Patrick Ang .The atmosphere was friendly and supportive and really ideal for sharing and networking among like minded people who wants to made a positive difference in people's lives

I attended my first APTS meeting last week. I found a diverse group of people sharing a common passion for training. They were eager to share their knowledge and experience, and they were very welcoming. The meeting was well-run and entertaining. I enjoyed the speakers and found their presentations interesting and informative. This is a supportive group of high-calibre professionals, and an ideal forum for networking. I look forward to the next meeting.

APTS is an excellent medium for Trainers to leverage on each other's expertise and learn to tap on an even greater market, reaching out to a larger sphere of target audience.

On top of that, I find the speakers well informed and 'leaders' in their own field. You not only add value to your guests, but also do you motivate other trainers to step up and rise to even greater levels in their training career.

Thumbs up to APTS!

Leadership Excellence for Trainers

“Move your AIMS”

Dr. Alexander Trost

Address : 8 Kallang Sector, Singapore 349282

Email : alexander@trostsite.com

By Dr. Alexander Trost
Assistant Honourable Treasurer,
APTS EXCO

Key Notes:

- Trainers are supposed to be leaders
- Leaders require the 3 F's: Fantastic, Future, Follower
- Leading trainers need to constantly adjust their targets (“AIMS”) in order to cope with the fast changing environment
- AIMS is not only a synonym for “targets” but also an acronym for the 4 ingredients of successful leaders: Awareness, Innovation, Motivation, Socialization

Like it or not, trainers are leaders – leading individuals, groups or even complete organizations towards better personal and corporate performances. Hence, trainers should claim this leadership and act accordingly. Here are some tips how to succeed as trainer and leader by focusing on the right attitude and the right actions.

As for the attitude, leaders require the 3 F's: Fantastic, Future, and Follower.

Leaders are fantastic since they are charismatic, energetic, neat in appearance and full of positivism. Leaders praise others for success while analyzing themselves in case of defeats. A leader comments “a lousy job done” as “this could be done better”.

Leaders are future oriented. They don't look back or lament on past mishaps, since the future is bright with a clear vision at the horizon.

Professional Trainer's Article By Dr. Alexander Trost

Last but not least, a real leader is also a good follower, supporting her / his respective leader to succeed. Listening, understanding and constructively commenting are attitudes of such "leading followers".

As for the actions on the other side, leaders constantly adjust their targets to the changing environment by revisiting their AIMS, namely

- Awareness
- Innovation
- Motivation
- Socialization

The sequence of Awareness, Innovation, Motivation and Socialization is purposely chosen, not only to form the nice acronym "AIMS" as synonym to "targets" but also in order to prioritize the sequence. First and most importantly, leaders have to know themselves as well as the other around them. Only once they are aware of persons and situations, they can be effectively innovative. Motivation will then help to get the innovation results implemented. The social part finally, is like the glue holding the AIM together.

The following part describes all four AIMS stages more in detail.

1. Awareness: Trainers like leaders have to understand themselves and the way others perceive them. Hence, trainers need to be open to feedback from their audience. Ideally, every training session concludes with a survey whereby the trainees rate the trainer's performance. It further helps if trainers are aware of their personal core values and desired targets based on which courses are delivered. In short: Get to know your 3 W's:

- Who am I (self-awareness)?
- What do I stand for (personal values)?
- Where do I want to go (personal mission)?

2. Innovation: Leading trainers are creative and have innovative ideas to constantly improve the training material as well as the course facilitation. Since trainers are never satisfied with the status quo, they continuously update themselves by getting trained as well. Hence, leading trainers are:

- Creative thinkers
- Continuous learners
- Change leaders

3. Motivation: Nothing is worse than a boring trainer. The art of training is therefore the creation of concerted interaction among trainees as well as between trainer and trainees. This is motivated by precise communication and clear language as well as by the use of multi-media (e.g. videos) and relevant exercises. Memory joggers and simplified graphs or pictures support the learning success and hence motivate the trainees additionally. Hence, leading trainers are:

- Communication champions
- People developers
- Entertainers

4. Socialization: Last but not least, trainers need extremely high social skills since their daily bread is all about people. Successful trainers use coffee breaks to mingle with the trainees in order to better understand their organization and individual training needs. They are also diversity savvy by embracing different cultures, races, genders and nationalities actively in their courses. Furthermore, trainers should act as role model, triggering others to follow their positive attitude and social responsibility. Hence, leading trainers are:

- Net-workers
- Multi-culture experts
- Socially Responsible

In conclusion:

1. Be a fantastic, future oriented leading trainer – who also knows how to humbly follow others
2. Constantly move your AIMS in order to be and remain on top of the training industry

APTS

Message from Mark Chin, President,
Association of Professional Trainers (Singapore)

The Association of Professional Trainers (Singapore), or the APTS, was established in May 2006 by a group of trainers in both the fields of soft-skills and hard-skills. This is a clear sign that the field of learning, and therefore training, is growing rapidly in Singapore.

Training is about helping others do better in areas they may already be familiar with. This is achieved by introducing new methods, establishing best practices, reinforcing standards, providing new insights and making the task itself more enjoyable.

The APTS aims to assist its members by sharing knowledge and techniques in the field of training in order that their trainees may benefit from higher and ever-improving standards. There are also other programmes that enable its members to reach out to the community at large by organizing training festivals that involve the entire body of APTS members.

The APTS aims to promote the message of “ Genuine, Professional and Integrity practices in the art and science of Professional Training “. The pedagogy of Training is an on-going process and the learning journey can never stop if Professional Training is to consistently and constantly scale new heights in Singapore.

The APTS therefore welcomes more Professional Trainers to join its ranks of people dedicated to the art of training their trainees through sharing and participation in its programmes and social interaction in the spirit of sharing and participation.

To all our APTS members who have joined us in the first wave, I congratulate their drive to achieve success and higher standards by committing and sharing their time, energy and expertise in their respective fields with other Professional Trainers in the APTS programmes.

Genuine + Professional + Integrity

Yours sincerely
